Dear NCUC members:

ICANN 55 will be held in Morocco 5-10 March 2016. NCUC members can apply to receive funding to attend the meeting. The travel dates can be ideally from 3 March to 10 March.

The budget for each meeting for travel support is maximum of $4,000. Covered travel expenses may include conference-related airfare, visas or related fees, lodging, and airport taxis. If the actual cost of these items is greater than $2,000 the member will be responsible for the difference. NCUC cannot provide a per diem or cover any other expenses. Selected travelers must make their own travel, accommodation, visa, and related arrangements and be reimbursed after the trip. NCUC cannot provide funds in advance of the meeting, or any administrative support.

Interested members should read carefully the terms and conditions of the policy available at <http://www.ncuc.org/participate/ncuc-travel-support/> and send a proposal as to why they should receive funding to attend this ICANN meeting. Please apply by replying to this email.

Best regards,

Dear Farzaneh,

thanks for sending us this travel support call. Please find below my application, where I tried to address all eligibility criteria specified on the NCUC website.

Name and affiliation: Tatiana Tropina, Max-Planck Institute for Foreign and International Criminal Law, participating in the NCUC in my individual capacity. I am living in Freiburg, Germany; but am a Russian passport holder.

I am a member of the NCUC from the last year and I did vote in the previous year's NCUC election.

I have been actively engaged in the work CCWP on Human Rights and Corporate Social Responsibility and CCWG-Accountability. I also joined the RDS PDP working group recently (not been active there yet, but the work just started).

My work at CCWG-accountability and CCWP on human rights is very likely to be advanced at the ICANN 55 for the following reasons.

At the CCWG-Accountability I have been engaged into the efforts to adopt a bylaw, which will make ICANN committed to respecting human rights within its mission. The proposed bylaw requires significant amount of work to be done in the Work Stream 2 (WS2) of the accountability process. The current outcome of the bylaw proposal is not known yet, because the ICANN's board is suggesting to move all the human-rights related issues to the WS2. Concerning the fact that CCWG plans to discuss the WS2 activities at the ICANN 55 meeting, the advance of my human rights-related work in Morocco doesn't depend on the outcome of the bylaw discussion. In any case, the WS2 will consider the development of the framework of interpretation of the commitment to respect human rights. Furthermore, I am a member of the subgroup 3 of the CCWP on Human rights, which is tasked to actively participate in the WS2 of CCWG and help in developing the framework of interpretation of the human rights commitment. This work will also get advanced in Morocco.

There are not so many people actively pushing for the human rights commitment at the CCWG-Accountability, and those of us who do have to engage themselves in every discussion because of the board's resistance and general controversy of this topic at the CCWG-accountability. So every person who is actively engaged can contribute a lot to the development of this work. I think this can also be considered as a good reason for me to apply for the travel funds. I also hope that my activity will be advanced more in general, not only in the context of my human rights related work. I am interested in many issues such as ICANN's interactions with LEA (where I see some dangerous trends), DNS abuse, and some others. I hope that the possibility to travel to the ICANN 55 meeting will allow me to get more engaged into the issues that are relevant to my area of expertise and where NCUC can benefit from my engagement.

I agree (and am willing) to participate in any NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings during ICANN 55 and write a post-trip blog post for the NCUC website. I have never received NCUC funding before.

Concerning my travel arrangements: I gladly accept the possibility for the reimbursement after the trip. My preliminary calculation of the costs: approx. 130 EUR airfare and approx. 600-something EUR hotel costs. I don't know the costs to and from the airport yet. I assume my final costs won't be higher than 1000 USD.

I saw that preferred dates of travel are 3-10 of March. Unfortunately, I have obligations to lecture on cybersecurity for judges in Budapest on 4th of March - I made this arrangement a long time ago and I can't reschedule this, so I will be able to arrive to Morocco on 5th of March only. Need to come back to Basel and fly from there.

So my travel dates are 5-10 of March. I hope it is still suitable.

Best regards

Tatiana

Dear Farzaneh,

I would like to attend the meeting. Also would like to avail the travel funding. Since, I am a new member, do you think it would be a hasty decision or not at the right time?

Would like to know your valuable inputs in this regard.

Best regards,

Rasheed Tamton.

Dear Rasheed,

Thanks for your email. You need to justify your request somehow. Tell us abit about your background, your activities within Internet governance, what you plan to achieve in Morocco, how much funds you need. Then send that to me I forward it to EC. Don't worry about applying it won't have a negative effect on your future applications.

Dear Friends;

I am interested to recive travell support to attend the ICANN meeting in Marakesh. I need this travel support because I am from developing countries and my country unable to fund me to attend thei meeting, also to know the increased and grow in information technology in the world. To be part and engaged in the process as I am a member of NCUC. The last ICANN meeting which I am attended in Costa Rica in 2012.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon.

TO THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NCUC

Dear Sirs

1. REF: TRAVEL SUPPORT APPLICATION FOR BA ICANN MEETING

My name is James Njoroge Gitau Kenyan citizen residing in a slum village called KCC informal Settlement in the Kenyan Capital Nairobi. I joined NCUC in 2011 and have been actively and verifiably engaged in NCUC's work. I normally participate in constituency elections since I became a member and I even voted in the previous election. Apart from voting I also participate in online discussions and communications including online meetings.

I work on a 100% voluntary basis at a Community Resource Center called Kariobangi South Welfare & Slums Housing Association (KASWESHA) based at the above mentioned settlement in Nairobi, offering free internet services to the less advantaged and needy communities and also offering networking skills to women and youth using Cisco Networking Academy curriculum. I need to be in the meeting because I believe once I participate in the meeting I will learn more actively in regards to NCUC / NCSG and GNSO and also become more active than I am in advocating the mission and objectives in home Country Kenya.

Having applied for travel support in the previous meeting I know the criterion for member's application to be successful and I therefore declare that should my application for travel support to Morocco meeting be successful I will mobilize resources to facilitate visa and travel and accommodation costs and later submit the receipts to the NCUC Chair and Treasurer for reimbursement.

As stipulated in the eligibility criteria I agree to participate in any NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings to be held during the ICANN meeting in Dublin. I also agree to write a brief post-trip report for the NCUC website reflecting the meeting's main developments of relevance to NCUC

I confirm that though having been a member of NCUC for over five years I have never benefited in any funding from NCUC to attend any ICANN meeting. For this matter I kindly request the EC and the selecting committee to consider funding my travel to enable my participation in the said meeting.

Regards;

James N Gitau

Hi Farzaneh,

Please treat this email as an application for travel support to participate in ICANN 55 to be held in Morocco.

I am a Ph.D student at the Indian Institute of Management Ahmedabad and a recent addition to the NCUC membership. I have been closely following the IANA Transition process for over an year. Please see two of my comments submitted in response to the CWG and ICG proposals:

<https://forum.icann.org/lists/comments-cwg-naming-transition-01dec14/pdfjglEbn0hCY.pdf>

Despite attending most CWG and CCWG meetings remotely, I have not had an opportunity to physically participate in any ICANN meeting. Since the CCWG-Accountability is at a crucial stage of the proposal development process, it would be an excellent opportunity to finally get a chance to interact with the people involved and make my concerns heard. Further, work by the WG on Human Rights is also progressing at a fast pace and it would be the correct time to get actively involved in that process. Last but not the least, this would be a great opportunity to be finally introduced to NCUC members!

I require a partial funding of $2000. I can manage the remaining funding on my institute/personal account.

Please let me know if any additional information is required.

Thanks.

Rishabh Dara

Apply to receive travel support for ICANN meeting in Morocco

Ayden Férdeline <icann@ferdeline.com>
To: farzaneh.badii@gmail.com

3 February 2016 at 06:55

Dear Farzaneh,

I trust this message reaches you well.

I would like to apply for travel support from the NCUC to aid in my active participation in ICANN 55. I estimate requiring US$550 in support to cover my travel expenses from the United Kingdom.

I will begin by providing a brief background as to who I am, and will then address the selection criteria for travel support as published on your website. I will conclude with a short breakdown of what funding I would require to participate in ICANN 55.

Who I Am and What I Do:

I am a new member of the ICANN community, having participated in my first ICANN meeting in Dublin as part of the NextGen@ICANN program, and I acknowledge that I am likely less qualified than many others who have requested travel support to enable their participation in this coming meeting. Nonetheless, I believe I can make a meaningful contribution to the NCUC and I am looking for any opportunity to become more involved in your work.

While I cannot profess to speak for anyone but myself, I feel I represent a broad number of constituencies of internet users on the basis of my present and past geographical locations, age, sexual orientation, internet usage patterns, and experience (or lack thereof) with ICANN and the NCUC more specifically. I am also not paid to participate in internet governance activities, nor is there an employer interested in any outcomes I work towards.

I am an Australian citizen based in the United Kingdom. I hold no sentimental nationalism, having since my birth also lived in Argentina, Canada, and Indonesia. Accordingly, having lived in the Americas, Asia, Europe, and Oceania, I bring geographical diversity to the constituency and an understanding of how different issues can be framed in different locales.

I purchased my first domain name in 2004 and in my possession are seven domain names (five -.com, one -.nu, and one -.xyz). I use a third-party privacy protection service to cloak my contact details from appearing in WHOIS searches for two of these domain names.

Outside of ICANN, I am a member of the Youth Coalition on Internet Governance, I am a prolific respondent to public consultations run by the Directorate General for Communication Networks, Content and Technology of the European Commission on the future of European audiovisual media services, and I conduct policy research for the London-based Media Reform Coalition, among other nimble, future-focused organisations whose missions I am passionate about.

I am 25 years of age, identify as a member of the LGBT community, and hold a Master's degree from the London School of Economics.

Selection Criteria:

Voted in the previous year's NCUC election. if eligible at the time:

I applied to join the NCUC in October 2015 and my membership was confirmed that December. I was therefore ineligible to vote in your last election.

Since joining the NCUC I have made an effort to involve myself in your activities and to educate myself on the agenda setting and decision-making processes utilised within the constituency. I have also spoken off-list with more active members to understand what issues are being tackled and what topics I need to read up on.

Are actively and verifiably engaged in NCUC's work, for example constituency governance, NCUC/NCSG policy discussions, or GNSO or cross-community working groups:

I have joined two working groups as a member: the Next-Generation gTLD Registration Directory Service Policy Development Process Working Group (RDS PDP WG), and the New gTLD Subsequent Procedures Policy Development Process Working Group (New gTLD PDP WG). While both working groups are in their infancy at this time, I have dialled into all scheduled conference calls and have been contributing to mailing list conversations where I have something of value to add.

Need to be at a given meeting because the above mentioned work will be advanced there:

I would like to attend ICANN 55 because both the RDS PDP WG and New gTLD PDP WG will meet for the first time. Both of these working groups are dealing with topics which sit at the centre of ICANN's mission and existence, and touch upon issues which are of key importance to non-commercial stakeholders. I would like to become more involved in these discussions. I would also find it beneficial meeting these stakeholders in person and putting a face to a name.

Agree to participate in any NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings held during the meeting:

Absolutely. Provided there are no scheduling conflicts, I would gladly commit to attending all NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings.

Agree to write a brief post-trip blog post for the NCUC website reflecting on the meeting's main developments of relevance to NCUC:

It would be my pleasure to do so. I wrote about my experiences attending ICANN 54 for the LSE Media Policy Project. You can read my blog post here:

<http://blogs.lse.ac.uk/mediapolicyproject/2015/11/10/as-icann-54-ends-more-certainty-over-the-future-of-the-internet/>

Did not receive NCUC funding to attend the immediately previous ICANN meeting, unless exceptional circumstances require their presence at two consecutive meetings. (Note: this criteria only applies to regular ICANN meetings, as below)

I have not previously received funding from the NCUC.

Agree to make their own travel, accommodation, visa, and related arrangements and be reimbursed after the trip. NCUC cannot provide funds in advance of meetings or any administrative support.

I can comply with this condition.

Travel Support Required:

I anticipate being in Marrakech from 6 March to 11 March. Aside from allowing me to attend all NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings (provided there are no scheduling conflicts), this will allow me to participate fully in the public board meeting on the evening of 10 March, and I have been advised by Susan Kawaguchi, acting chair of the RDS PDP WG, that this will enable me to participate fully in the working group's meetings tentatively scheduled for 8 March. I am seeking travel support of up to US$550, covering my flight from London ($100) and accommodation ($450). I will meet any additional expenses incurred.

I would like to finish my thanking the NCUC and its donors for making travel support available for members to participate in ICANN meetings. I am also very grateful to the Executive Committee for taking the time to consider my request. Please do reach out to me if you have any questions or concerns regarding my suitability — the surest way to reach me is via return email or Skype (my username is: aferdeline) — or any advice you would like to share with me on how I can become a more active participant in your work.

Best wishes,

Ayden Férdeline

I would like to apply for the $2000 travel support regarding ICANN meeting in Morocco

I'm NCUC member appointed by FOSSFA, the Free and Open Source Softwares Foundation for Africa. I'm also engaged as individual member and volunteer for the Next Generation Registration Services Policy Development Process Working Group in the GNSO.

I am a civil society young leader, from Togo, West Africa. I'm fluent in French and English.

I'm the lead of Togo's IGF initiative (www.fgi-togo.tg).

I come from a technical background in ICT and serve as Chief Technical Officer for FOSSFA (Free and Open Source Software Foundation for Africa) and member of many other local or regional civil society organisations.

I'm ICTP fellow and studied the use of ICT for science dissemination at the International Center for Theoretical Physics, Trieste Italy.

In 2011 I was awarded by INASP for my engagement in the academia namely for training Togo university students and teachers at the use of Open Access resources (OER) in Education.

I actively participated in the GCCS 2015 at the Hague where I organized and chaired, as part of the GCCS-unplugged, a side event regarding the role of FOSSFA in internet Security and policy making in Africa.

I have completed internet governance courses with DiploFoundation such as the ICT strategic planning Advanced course and the ICT policy making course.

I took as well Isoc's online courses on Introduction to Internet Governance, the Infrastructures, the Internet Governance for Development among others.

I have been the main lead organiser of Togo IGF since 2013 where, every year, we keep advocating for cybersecurity, child online protection, Internet accessibility, affordability, freedom in Togo and in the West-African Sub-region.

I'm an active member on several Internet Governance mailing lists such as IG Causus, YCIG, Governance, Bestbit and I created number of local mailing lists for knowledge sharing.

From my point of view, ICANN is a very large and complex institution. I'm harnessing all the available resources to learn as quickly as possible and I think participating in the ICANN Meeting in Morocco this year can be very key for a new comer as me to get involved, interact with major actors and contribute more actively.

I Voted in the previous year's NCUC election.

I actively participate in the gnso-rds-pdp-wg meetings since I was engaged in the working group and I hope to interact further more with the group at that meeting

I agree to participate in any NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings held during the meeting;

I agree to write a brief post-trip blog post for the NCUC website reflecting on the meeting's main developments of relevance to NCUC;

I did not receive NCUC funding to attend any previous ICANN meeting before.

I agree to make the accommodation, visa, and related arrangements by myself and be reimbursed after the trip.

Kind regards,

Komlan GLAKPE

Dear Chair,
Non Commercial Users Community,

Application for Travel

I, Benjamin Akinmoyeje, a member of NCUC /NCSG since 2013, writes to apply for travel support, I have been a participant in the NCUC/NCSG space till date.

I voted in the previous year NCUC election.

I have been active to the best of my knowledge by observing and contributing in the NCUC space. I participate in group calls and discussion offline on NCUC NCSG matters.

I need to be at the ICANN 55 public meeting where I hope to be in the Non Contractual Parties House meeting as I have recently started following up on their activities. I also joined the Working Group on new gTLD; this will allow me contribute as a member of CCWP ICANN Human rights and Corporate Social Responsibility in the aspect that affect human rights.

I agree to write a brief post – trip blog post for NCUC website reflecting on the meeting’s main developments that is of relevance to NCUC.

Finally, as a former ICANN fellow and a member NCUC Membership Engagement Team, I hope to participate in outreach programs to reach out to new members.

I agree to participate in all NCUC, NCSG and GNSO meetings held during the ICANN 55 meeting.

I agree to make my own travel, accommodation, visa and related arrangements and be reimbursed after the trip.

I look forward to the consideration of my application as this will help make up my travel expense and encourage my participation in NCUC activities.

Thank you

Benjamin Akinmoyeje

He already is a member of NCUC. But I also do not understand how he sits on GAC and at the same time is civil society. Probably it is the unique case of Burundi and the fact that he might be in the minority of experts on domain name issues. But he is our member.

Hi Farzaneh

I had thought about that and I was trying to change my flight back from Spain, which was originally 9th March to the 12th march (so I could stay for all the days of ICANN*).

Unfortunately the website Decolar.com.br that emitted my round ticket to Madrid was being unreliable and I could not check the prices when I applied.

Now I could check them and indeed the prices are USD500 less!

So
Ticket change (returning to Brazil from Spain in 12th Mar) - USD 561,57

Round trip Spain - Morocco - USD 121,07

Hotel 255,32 USD

Total amount 938,16USD

* Of course, if I come back from Morocco before ICANN is over (8th March) the ticket change amount would not be needed but I'd be staying 3 days before the event ends. It would be ok by me (at least I get to participate in a bit) but is it for the NCUC?

* I have friends in Madrid and Barcelona I can stay with so no need for hotel in these places

* The screenshots with the research I made are in this online folder
(Decolar.com.br shows the ticket change screen when logged in only)
